about our institution

Nacogdoches, Texas provides an impressive setting of pine trees and natural beauty for Stephen F. Austin State University. Opening its doors in 1923 as a teacher's college, SFA continues its rich history of pioneering higher education in East Texas. SFA is a comprehensive institution dedicated to excellence in teaching, research, scholarship, creative work and service. Through the personal attention of the faculty and staff, SFA engages students in a learner-centered environment and offers opportunities to prepare for the challenges of living in the global community.

Boasting an enrollment of approximately 13,000 students during the fall of 2013, SFA continues to see growth – not only in the classroom, but also in on-campus facilities. Since 2006, the university has completed more than $260 million in campus improvements, including a first-year students' residence hall, student recreation center and the Richard and Lucille DeWitt School of Nursing facility.

academic programs

Stephen F. Austin State University offers more than 80 undergraduate majors and 120 areas of study and more than 40 graduate degrees, including three doctoral programs within its six colleges

- Nelson Rusche College of Business
- James I. Perkins College of Education
- College of Fine Arts
- Arthur Temple College of Forestry and Agriculture
- College of Liberal and Applied Arts
- College of Sciences and Mathematics

Although the university has grown dramatically during its 90 years of existence, the classroom remains the core focus of the institution. In keeping with these values, the average class size at SFA is 29 students, allowing for a student-to-faculty ratio of 20:1. In addition, SFA offers numerous opportunities for research, creative and scholarly activities that expand educational experiences for undergraduate and graduate students.
